ROYAL ARCH MASONS.

Bedford Chapter No. 255 Celebrates Its Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

ENJOYABLE BANQUET.

Addressed by Right Worshipful Grand Master G. E. Wagner, Most Excellent Grand King H. O. Kline and Others.

Bedford Chapter No. 255, Royal Arch Masons, celebrated the 25th anniversary of the constitution of the masonry on Saturday, September 29, 1901. Work of the chapter was exemplified in the presence of Right Worshipful Grand Master George E. Wagner, of Philadelphia, and Most Excellent Grand King H. O. Kline, of Pittsburgh.

The occasion was one to be long remembered in the history of the chapter, as a grand visitation is rare and when made is a mark of honor and distinction shown to the subordinate chapter.

At six p. m. visitors and members of Chapter 355 met at the Bedford house, where an elegant dinner, at $2 per plate, awaited the devotees of King Solomon and his craft. In point of quantity, quality and artistic arrangement it is doubtful if the spread has ever been equaled in Bedford.

The floral decorations were as varied as they were beautiful. Exquisite vases of roses, chrysanthemums, carnations, sweet alyssum and others in vast profusion adorned the table, which was quite over-canopied with luscious flowers and vines, filling the large dining room with a strange and wonderful sweetness.

At each plate was a buttonhole bouquet symbolizing of ardent love, modesty and sincerity.

After all were seated and a Divine blessing invoked by Rev. Dr. A. R. Miller the following menu was served:

- Celery, SOUPS, Bouillabaisse, Potage of Oysters, Boiled Salmon Sauté Parsley, Potatoes a la Mode, Roast Turkey Cranberry Sauce, MEATS, Roast Turkey Cranberry Sauce, Mashed Potatoes, Baked Sweet Potatoes, RELISHES, Chicken Salad, Pepper Sauce, Tomato Sauce, Macaroni, Cauliflower, Omelette, Ham, Beefsteak, Cakes, Apples, Ice Cream, Layer Fruit, Rose, Nuts, Lady Fingers, Almond Macaroons, FISHES, Grapes, Oranges, Bananas, Nuts, Peach Ice Cream, Vanilla Ice Cream, Lemon Ice, Tea, Cafe Noir.

When little but the memory of that splendid dinner remained then began "The feast of reason and the flow of soul." Hon. Edmund S. Doty acted as toast-master and called on the guests in the following order: Master George E. Wagner to respond to the toast, "Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania." Mr. Wagner was full of his subject and delightfully entertained his auditors by eloquent speech of things interesting only to Masons. Most Excellent Grand King H. O. Kline replied to the toast, "The Grand Chapter of Pennsylvania," in his usual eloquent and impressive style.

Outer toasts were assigned and addresses made by A. L. Hench, of Altoona; Hon. John M. Reynolds, Judge J. H. Longenecker, Prof. D. C. Shunk, Rev. Dr. A. R. Miller, Frank W. Jordan, Jr., of Bedford; Dr. H. W. Bader and W. E. Nevitt, of Everett. Among the number present were the following: Most Excellent High Priest W. Scott Malott, Harry C. Robinson, Harvey P. Shires, James Cleaver, Josiah B. Ritchey, D. R. Smith, F. R. Bennett, Levi Smith, A. G. Steiner, J. F. Mickel, J. O. Smith, Charles A. Willoughby, Anthony Beausieu, George W. Darrick and Hon. John S. Weller.

CORIE BONGARDNER NUPITAL.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bongardner, wedding merriment was held at 8 o'clock. Miss Grace B. Bongardner was united in marriage to J. Calvin Corie. Rev. Warren J. Ellis, D. D., of Philadelphia, officiated. After the ceremony the happy couple received congratulations. Lunch was then served to the guests. At 11 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Corie left for Harrisburg and came to Bedford Tuesday night. Soon after their arrival here they were serenaded by the Calithumpanians and the celebrated Chas. Quintotte.

Mr. Corie is the son of John A. Corie, of this place, and is a young man of excellent character. He is a member of the well known firm of Crouse & Co., manufacturers of cigars, Reading, Pa. His friends here are numbered by the score.

He has a magnificent tenor voice and when in Bedford has always taken a prominent part in musical entertainments. Mrs. Corie is a most estimable young woman and is very popular. She received a large number of valuable presents, tokens of the high esteem in which she is held.

A FIRE AND AN ACCIDENT.

Tuesday night at half past ten o'clock Dennis Morgart's barn, a half mile from Rainburg, was burned to the ground. Three horses and a buggy were saved. One horse, farming implements, grain, etc., were burned. The building was insured in the Friend's Cove Fire Insurance company. There was no insurance on the contents of the barn. The fire was started through an accident. The hired girl, Miss Rawlings, was taking some packages from a wagon when she fell through the motioned and set fire to the building. Mrs. Morgart, while going to Miss Rawlings' aid, fell and broke her leg.

Pay Your Own Tax.

The law requires that every voter shall pay his own tax to entitle him to vote. This is the honest way and the honest way. The voter who does not pay his tax is a freeman. Orders are given sometimes to others to pay them, but this should never be done unless the voter is physically unable to go and pay his own tax.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

Usually Large Number of Excellent Exhibits.

The Bedford county fair opened on Tuesday. The exhibits in all the departments were numerous and excellent. The fruit display, consisting of apples, pears, peaches and grapes, surpassed any that has been on exhibition for several years, both in quantity and quality. In the art department a great number of entries were made. These included water colors, crayons, pencil sketches, maps and China painting, many of which were of a high order. The display of photographs was extensive and very good. The fancy work exhibited was abundant and many of the pieces were very handsome. While the floral display was not large, it was beautiful, among the most beautiful exhibits in this department being the dahlias, which were very pretty and of many varieties.

In the vegetable line most of the exhibits were wonderful, both for size and quality; all the products of the farm were displayed and some of the specimens were splendid.

The stock on exhibition was much better than that of last year. Many fine cattle having been entered. The poultry exhibit also was very good.

A number of business men had goods displayed, among them being the following: Briggs, Hertz, and company, W. A. Debaugh, Frank Brightbill and J. Reed Irvine.

Despite the disagreeable weather Wednesday afternoon, between 3,500 and 5,000 people were in attendance. For some reason unknown to the fair management Kennedy Brothers' Wild West show had not come to Bedford at the time we went to press. The association has a bonafide contract with the Kennedy Brothers and it cannot understand why they failed to fulfill it.

WEDNESDAY'S RACES.

The trotting race Wednesday afternoon for a purse of $100 resulted as follows:

- Horse. Owner. Agno Hal... G. B. Stiver, of Bedford... Little Tom... G. B. Stiver, of Bedford... Little Tom... G. B. Stiver, of Bedford... Little Tom... G. B. Stiver, of Bedford...

The horses in the running race for a purse of $100 finished in the following order:

- Horse. Owner. Billy, R. N. Shaw, of Clearfield... List... T. H. R. A. Stiver, of Bedford... List... T. H. R. A. Stiver, of Bedford... List... T. H. R. A. Stiver, of Bedford...

AT RIDE TO BUFFALO.

A visit to the Pan-American Exposition—The Electrical Display.

On Tuesday, September 24, the commissioners of Bedford county left for Buffalo to attend the state convention. A goodly number of commissioners, clerks and other members of the county were in attendance. In the afternoon of the 24th we visited the State college in a body and found all departments conducted in a manner creditable to the managers of the institution. We returned to Buffalo that evening and concluded to take in the Buffalo exposition.

The fair at Buffalo is well worth a visit. In all of the different buildings on the ground the displays are fine.

The machinery hall is a very large building and the display there is grand. There are large engines from every state. The entire exhibit is splendid. In the horticultural building California, of course, takes the lead in nearly every kind of fruit and in many other products. She also shows as fine sheep and cows as I have seen anywhere. The weight of sheep ranges from three to four hundred pounds. The cows, too, are handsome. The information we obtained as to the rights of the short horns and Aberdeen was to the effect that it runs from fourteen to sixteen hundred pounds. All of the other states had grand displays. In music, the Germans take the lead of all others. The Filipinos made a good showing in all their displays. They have little girls who are very bright and intelligent. They adopt many plans to collect money from the sight-seers as they pass by. Their houses are all built of a broad beam from their native country. Among the notable buildings was the Music Hall, where President McKinley was shot. This is a fine structure, well finished, and is intended to stand only one year. There was an immense crowd of people passing around it all the time. The building where the tower is erected is grand. The elevator in that building covers a distance of two hundred and sixty feet. From the top of the tower you get a good view of the entire city, east and west, and a grand view of Lake Erie, as well as Niagara river and the fair grounds.

The electrical display was the grandest I ever saw. It was general, all over the fair ground. The Music Hall display could not be excelled. The electric scenery by night was magnificent. The water works were very fine all over the ground. We returned to our hotel, the Stanford, a fine place to stop and rest, for another trip on the morrow.

The next day we took a steamboat ride to Canada and went from there on arolley car to Niagara Falls. From there we went to Bermuda and then returned to Niagara City. After spending a few hours there we came back to Buffalo and remained until Saturday morning, when we started for home.

FITZPATRICK'S PERSONALS.

Mr. John E. Bloch, of the pension office, will visit his family at Bedford next week and also take in the county fair.

Mrs. J. M. Kegg, of Bedford, is visiting her son, Mr. H. V. Kegg, in the city, and her brother, Mr. W. Shuck, manager of the Lookhart Iron and Steel company, McKees Rocks.

Mr. William Montgomery, the carpenter, of Francis street, will visit his old home at Bedford next week, after an absence of sixteen years. He will take in the Bedford county fair and pass judgment on the big pumpkins he has abandoned his overland trip on account of corn and a free pass.

Township High Schools.

The last legislature passed a law to provide for the centralization of township schools and to provide high schools for township. For this purpose the school boards are permitted to issue bonds and are required to furnish transportation to and from school for all children residing within three-fourths of a mile from the school house.

THE DEATH ROLL.

Those Who Have Been Called Home.

THE FINAL SUMMONS.

Came To Mrs. J. K. Taylor, Mary Pearl Egoft, Mrs. Ma'ida M. Ayers, Sophronia Mechtley.

Mrs. J. B. Taylor was born four miles south of Bedford on October 22, 1850, and departed this life on September 28, 1901. Her maiden name was Rosa. She was a daughter of James and Mary Ren and a granddaughter of James Ren, deceased. In 1865 she, with her father and mother, went to Illinois and resided on a farm near Washburn, in that state. She spent her childhood with her parents on the farm and attended the common schools. In 1880 she graduated in the Washburn high school and for five years taught in the public schools. In 1888 she visited Niagara Falls, New York, Philadelphia and other eastern cities and towns. On February 10, 1890, she was united in marriage to J. E. Taylor, of Schellburg, at her parents' home. By Rev. Cornelius, pastor of Washington, Ill., her father's church, of Washburn, Ill. She leaves to mourn their loss a bereaved husband, two children, one six, the other two, an aged father and mother, two brothers, two sisters and a host of other friends. She was a devoted wife, a loving mother and a sincere Christian, having united with the Presbyterian church early in life, and was a consistent member up to her death. She was highly esteemed by all who knew her. Services were conducted in the Presbyterian church of her pastor, Rev. Edgar P. Johnson, and interment took place in the Schellburg cemetery on October 1.

Schellburg, October 2. E. F. J.

Mary Pearl Egoft.

Mary Pearl, the youngest child of John and Mary A. Egoft, of Schellburg, was born on July 23, 1890, and died on September 13, 1901, aged one year, one month and nineteen days. This delicate little bud was tenderly watched and cared for by its parents, who thought they would bring it up to a useful life, but Providence ordered otherwise. And now the little bud is gone, the stem broken and only faint memories remain. The funeral took place from its earthly home on September 14 and was conducted by Rev. D. G. Hetrick. The interment was at Schellburg. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community in their loss.

Mrs. Ma'ida M. Ayers.

Mrs. Ma'ida M. Ayers, widow of George Ayers, died at her home in Altoona, September 28. The deceased was eighty-five years old on March 16, 1901. She was born near Everett, her maiden name being Matilda Clingerman. Her husband died on June 13, 1892. She is survived by two children, two brothers and two sisters. Mrs. Ayers was a consistent and active member of the Methodist Episcopal church for many years.

Hendricks, of Bedford, supplied this church during the summer preced-ing his last year in the Theological seminary. The church at large has been actively engaged during the past year in raising funds to build a me-morial church. Work is expected to be begun on the building very soon and when completed it will be one of the finest churches in the capital city.

WINTHROP WHISPERS.

On the Crest of the Mighty Deep—The Home of the Four Hundred.

WINTHROP, Mass., September 30.—This lovely spot by the ocean, or rather, right on the crest of the mighty deep, is reached from the Hub City, with its five hundred thousand souls, by a ferry boat from Row's wharf to East Boston, where one changes to the steam boat, which runs to Winthrop, making a circuit of the city. In this circuit there are seven stations, all in Winthrop, so that one wants to know at which station he should alight. The writer's station is Winthrop beach, the central station of the borough. After alighting from the train ask any one where the Capri cottage is and you will find the latch string hanging outside the door and a hearty welcome to all and from all in the snug cottage which has been our home for some months, but which we will soon vacate for our city home.

Our home at Winthrop, is over a mile in length. It is kept up and cared for by the Metropolitan park commission, a state organization. This Crest is a lovely drive, on the edge of the ocean. It is watered and swept more frequently than many houses. No heavy teams, not even delivery wagons, are allowed on it, no auto-mobiles and no children under five years unless accompanied by a parent or nurse. The place is the home, during the summer, of the four hundred, the aristocracy of the states. The most elegant gowns are to be seen in the evenings on the Crest at the home and societies. Turnouts that would make your eyes sparkle pass and repass our cottage every moment of the evening. The bathing is great. The salt water is so invigorating and so appetizing that not long since I heard a lady say she ate so much that she was ashamed to sit down at the table, that she was always hungry. This same lady, who is nearly fifty, has learned to swim. While she learned on a small boat, she has learned to swim in the ocean. She is a strong, healthy woman and she had boys' rather than bottle corks and made a pillow of them.

Every one here is sociable and every body is a half fellow well met. We have made many friends and have all had a delightful summer. Mrs. Tibby Smith, with her charming daughters, Misses Ruth and Eva, and Messrs. Brown and Foster, have aided much toward the pleasure of others. Boating and fishing are enjoyed here. Our young-est boy, Clifton, has been a perfect fisher and a perfect swimmer, while Elsie, a perfect mermaid in trying to save a friend who had ventured out too far and was being carried out to sea by the undertow. Noyah has also proven himself a great swimmer and diver from the big raft, which has afforded so much pleasure to the many thousands that have bathed hereabout this season.

M. P. HECKENBACH.

The will of President McKinley was filed in the court house at Canton, O., Friday afternoon. Following is the text of the will.

BY ME OF MY LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT, I hereby revoke all former wills and testaments by me made.

To my beloved wife, Ida S. McKinley, I bequeath all of my real estate, wherever situated, and all of my personal property of which I may be possessed at death, during her natural life. I make the following charges upon all of my property, both real and personal.

To pay my mother during her life $1,000 per annum, to be paid to my sister, Helen McKinley. If she should die before my mother, then I direct that such sum of my property be sold and the proceeds be paid to my mother for her support. If my mother should die before my mother, then I direct that such sum of my property be sold and the proceeds be paid to my mother for her support.

Witness my hand and seal this 24th day of October, 1901, at Washington, District of Columbia.

Is it stated that the estate will reach from $250,000 to $300,000. Of this $250,000 is life insurance. The remainder consists of bank deposits in Washington and of real estate in Canton and elsewhere.

On Thursday last week Leon Col-goz, the assassin of President McKinley, was sentenced to death in the electric chair at Auburn, N. Y., in the week beginning October 28. Before his doom was pronounced the assassin was given an opportunity to make a statement. In his patriotic reply he said that he had no mother and no father and no mother had anything to do with the crime he committed, that he alone was responsible. Not a single word did he utter in justification of his atrocious act. In the court room Colgoz seemed to be terror-stricken, all his vaunted courage was gone. When removed to the prison at Auburn he collapsed and whined like a whelped cur.

Purchased Printing Quitt.

Will F. Hendrickson, proprietor of the News, of Osterburg, Pa., was here on Thursday. Mr. Hendrickson has purchased the printing outfit of C. W. Mardoff and will move to Bedford.

Mr. Hendrickson has not been observed in recent years and as every man felt that with Verkes the pledge will be held inviolate to the last hour of his life, there was such a storm of approval as had never before broken the old building in which it was uttered.

Representative Palm, of Crawford county, was no less happy in accepting the nomination for state treasurer. "Let us hope," he said, "that the time may soon come when the honor of a nomination to a high office in Pennsylvania shall not depend entirely on the chance of being able to secure it, but rather on the motive that animated those who aspire to it."

What's a grand consummation that will be for now the acid impulses that make public trust a species of merchandise in which men trade as hucksters deal in wares in the market places. "The issue in the coming campaign is no plain," continued Mr. Palm, "is a wayfarer man though a fool need not misunderstand." The platform upon which we stand denounces extravagance, bribery, perjury, legislative robbery and political corruption of every sort. The platform of our opponents declares itself at the expense of honest citizens to make fraud, perjury and legislative robbery the public right.

It is a pity that such speeches under such circumstances inspired enthusiasm and created hope?

The meeting was splendid in every particular. It not only brought together a distinguished body of Democrats but it inspired them with good fellowship when they got together. The day before a wonderful political incident was developed. Representatives of a citizenship in every section of the state had assembled the day previous in the same city, and setting aside prejudices, had nominated a ticket the head of which was the distinguished jurist whom the Democrats had previously honored. The night before the streets had been literally ablaze with marching and musical hosts testifying to their abhorrence of the abuses which have been during recent years perpetrated by an atrocious political machine. The very air was surcharged with opposition to corruption in politics and venality in public life. Under such circumstances the vast number of patriotic and unselfish citizens representing the best hopes and aspirations of the people of the state gathered together in the interest of good government and an untarnished judiciary and it is natural that there should be an abundance of hope and a plethora of good feeling.

It was an inspiring moment when Chairman Doty declared that such a conspiracy to great danger which confronts the people of Pennsylvania, that ballot-box stuffers, the purchased and the purchasable legislators are a great menace, he said that which every man within the sound of his voice knew to be gospel truth. But there is hope when men understand, and understanding, have courage to act, and the meeting on Wednesday revealed the fact that such is true. Mr. Palm testified to the sentiment expressed by Judge Doty when he said "the nation's greatest danger is not from the wicked who are in the government, but from the wicked who are not in the government."

HICKS' FORECAST FOR OCTOBER.

He Predicts Heavy Storms the Latter Part of the Month.

Hicks in his October forecast says that we will scarcely have recovered from heavy equinoctial rains when the 10th anti-storm conditions will begin to appear in the western part of the country. Between the 2nd and the 10th these conditions will grow into cloudiness and rain and snow will touch many parts of the country in their transition from the west to the east about the 2nd to the 5th. As change to warmer comes immediately in front of the active storm areas, so change to colder may be counted on, even before the western edge of rain and snow has quite passed any locality. From the 5th to the 10th anti-storm conditions will give place to more storms of rain and snow. The 9th is the central day of this reactionary period. The moon is on the celestial equator on that day, greatly increasing the probability of October rains and thunder southward, but turning to early snow squalls later in northern sides of the country. Look for change to rising barometer and colder after the storm central on the 9th. A glance at the storm chart shows that the very best combination of disturbing causes bears on the regular storm period which is central on the 15th, covering the 13th to the 18th. The Mercury period, the autumnal equinox, the Mars period and the Jupiter disturbance are all seen to extend their influence into this part of October. The conjunction of the moon with the sun on the 15th will precipitate the change to warmer with falling barometer at the very outset of this regular volcanic period and returning storms of rain and snow will sweep across the country about the 14th to the 17th. At the crisis of these storms it will be best to look for some early winter. Snow and sleet are more than probable in northern sections, with high northwesterly gales and an October cold wave. The 20th to 21st are central days of a reactionary time of autumnal disturbances. A perceptible change to warmer will be noted in the west about the 19th; this change will be followed by falling barometer and cloudiness, and October rains, fringed in the north by sleet and snow, will traverse the country from west to east during the 20th to 22nd. Some of the heaviest storms of the month may certainly be counted on during the Vol-canic storm period central on the 26th. Watch all agricultural and maritime interests at this time. Cold wave will follow.

Ogley and our late president, William McKinley.

What the Republican Party Endorses.

The last Republican legislature increased the number of offices, increased the salaries of officers, voted away millions of dollars out of the state treasury to give those in office a chance to profit thereby, voted away the public franchise and property of the state to enrich a few controlling the party, and worse than all, many of the legislators were bought and sold at prices that were fortunes, as bribes for their votes. The Republican party endorsed the vilest and corrupt legislation, and all this the Republican party endorsed in its state platform and asks Republicans who want to be honest in every other walk of life to vote for.

A RED-LETTER EVENT.

The Notification Meeting Held in Philadelphia Last Week.

JUDGE DOTY'S SPEECH.

The Issue of the Campaign Is Clearly Defined—The Nation's Greatest Danger.

Special Correspondence of THE GAZETTE. HARRISBURG, October 1.—No political event of recent years has had as inspiring an influence on the Democratic mind of this state as the notification meeting held at the Continental hotel, Philadelphia, Wednesday of last week. The very air was surcharged with opposition to corruption in politics and venality in public life. Under such circumstances the vast number of patriotic and unselfish citizens representing the best hopes and aspirations of the people of the state gathered together in the interest of good government and an untarnished judiciary and it is natural that there should be an abundance of hope and a plethora of good feeling.

It was an inspiring moment when Chairman Doty declared that such a conspiracy to great danger which confronts the people of Pennsylvania, that ballot-box stuffers, the purchased and the purchasable legislators are a great menace, he said that which every man within the sound of his voice knew to be gospel truth. But there is hope when men understand, and understanding, have courage to act, and the meeting on Wednesday revealed the fact that such is true. Mr. Palm testified to the sentiment expressed by Judge Doty when he said "the nation's greatest danger is not from the wicked who are in the government, but from the wicked who are not in the government."
